ATTENTION OF _____ FILE _____

DATE 10-10-84 _____

DEPARTMENT _____

On Friday, September 28, 1984, Henry Cole said that the resident at 1135 W. Pacific had had a backup problem in his basement that he said "smelled like the stockyards." Henry asked Gene Pabst and I to check the manholes on 1100 W. Pacific for evidence of a backup. At approximately 3:00 P.M. we looked in manholes 23, 36 and 22. The line was flowing freely and there was no evidence of a backup.
